AGREEMENT:

The Background section forms an integral part of this Agreement and is binding upon the Receiving Party as if recited at length herein. In consideration of the commitments made in this Agreement, the Receiving Party agrees that:

- 1) Confidential Information. For the purposes hereof, “Confidential Information” shall include, regardless of the form in which it is communicated or maintained, whether it is marked as confidential or not, details of any discussions or negotiations whether in written, oral, electronic, visual or other form concerning the Bid or the design, construction, finance, operation or maintenance of the Project and any of the terms, conditions and other facts relating thereto but not limited to:
  - a) trade secrets, proprietary information, financial, technical, commercial, revenue, cost and expense data, market and customer information, supplier and vendor information, technical information, contracts, agreements, and any and all other information related to the assets, liabilities, operations and/or business of a Party that is not publicly available, whether patented or not, developed and/or owned by a Party or to which a Party has obtained rights by license or otherwise;
  - b) the fact that discussions or negotiations are or may be taking place with respect to the Project and/or Bid and the proposed terms of any such Bid;
  - c) the existence and terms of this Agreement;
  - d) the fact that information has been disclosed or made available to the Receiving Party;
  - e) any and all such other information as may be of value to Disclosing Party, or that in the event of disclosure thereof, may negatively affect the operations and/or business of the Disclosing Party and which by its nature should reasonably have been recognized by the Receiving Party as information which the Disclosing Party would have wished to be kept confidential;
  - f) any and all notes, analyses, compilations, studies, memoranda, correspondence, drawings and computer software that contains, discusses or otherwise reflects any of the information set forth above; and,
  - g) specific information that merely because its individual features are embraced by more general information found in the public domain or in the prior possession of the Receiving Party and if the combination itself and its principle of operation are not in the public domain or in the possession of the Receiving Party.
- 2) Third Party Confidential Information. Confidential Information made available under this Agreement may include information of third parties, such as affiliates or suppliers, and the source of such Confidential Information shall not affect its treatment under this Agreement.
- 3) Confidential Undertaking. In consideration of the disclosure to the Receiving Party of Confidential Information relating to the Bid or the Project, the Receiving Party agrees and makes the following undertakings (collectively, the “Undertaking”) to the Disclosing Party:
  - a) They acknowledge that the Disclosing Party does not make any representation or warranty, expressed or implied, and shall have no liability of any kind with respect to:
    - i) the adequacy, completeness or accuracy of any kind, of any Confidential Information provided in connection with the Project; or,

- ii) to the reasonableness of any assumptions (if any) contained in such Confidential Information or any opinion expressed therein;
  - b) The Confidential Information provided by the Disclosing Party is not and will not be intended to provide the sole basis for a decision to submit a Bid or otherwise participate in the Project; the Receiving Party will have to make their own investigation and analysis of such matters as they deem appropriate and prudent in order to make their own decisions;
  - c) It is understood that neither this Undertaking nor the delivery of the Confidential Information constitutes a commitment or offer to participate in the Project or a commitment to an obligation in respect thereof;
  - d) They shall keep the Confidential Information, including this Undertaking, in strict confidence and will not, without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party, disclose or otherwise make available the Confidential Information or any part thereof to any person except:
    - i) to their employees, officers, directors, agents, representatives and advisors or affiliates to whom it is necessary to reveal the Confidential Information in order to prepare and submit the Bid;
    - ii) on a confidential basis, to legal and other advisers and insurance and other regulatory bodies, in each case for reasons consistent with the performance of their duties provided that the Disclosing Party can reasonably expect that such persons will treat the Confidential Information so received as confidential and Section 3 g) below is satisfied, or
    - iii) to the extent required by law, regulatory authority or court order, in which case the Receiving Party will provide notice to the Disclosing Party of such requirement and opportunity for the Disclosing Party to take measures to resist such disclosure.
  - e) They acknowledge that the GP is bound by obligations regarding confidentiality, copyright and conflict of interest in relation to the Project and agree not to do anything, or omit to do anything, that would cause a breach by the GP, the partners, the subcontractors, or third parties of these obligations under the Construction Contract as per Appendix A;
  - f) They shall use the Confidential Information only for the purpose of preparing and submitting their Bid, or in the event of an award, for the purposes of the Receiving Party fulfilling its obligations in accordance with the terms and conditions of the eventual contractual agreement (the "Permitted Purpose");
  - g) They will ensure that any of the persons specified in Section 3) d) ii) above to whom any of the Confidential Information is disclosed shall act in relation thereto in all respects as if such person itself had entered into an undertaking under the terms contained in this Agreement.
- 4) Non-Confidential Information: Confidential Information does not include information that, without restriction on its use, was, is or becomes:
- a) at the time of being obtained by Receiving Party, generally available to and known by the public (other than as a result of improper disclosure);
  - b) subsequently comes into the public domain other than by reason of failure by Receiving Party to comply with the terms of this Agreement;
  - c) independently developed by a Party, so long as it has not arisen as a result of access to Confidential Information in tangible form and is not legally restricted as to disclosure or use outside of the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The Party claiming the benefit of this provision shall bear the burden of establishing that it independently developed such Confidential Information, and consents to reasonable audit thereto; or,

- d) available to the Receiving Party on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Disclosing Party in circumstances not impairing confidentiality and where the source, upon reasonable belief of the Receiving Party, is not restricted in its disclosure of the Confidential Information.
- 5) Protection of Confidential Information. Receiving Party agrees that during the term of this Agreement it shall:
- a) protect any received Confidential Information to the same degree of care and diligence that it uses to protect its own Confidential Information of like importance, but with no less than reasonable care, and shall not use it, permit its use, directly or indirectly for any purpose other than the Permitted Purpose;
  - b) promptly inform the Disclosing Party of any accidental or unauthorized disclosure or misuse of received Confidential Information, and make commercially reasonable efforts to prevent any further unauthorized disclosure or misuse including enforcing obligations of third parties to whom Receiving Party has disclosed Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party;
  - c) cause its employees, officers, agents, representatives and advisors who have access to any received Confidential Information to comply with the terms and conditions of this Section 5); or
  - d) disclose any Confidential Information, where required by governmental or judicial order or by applicable law or regulatory or administrative orders. The Receiving Party shall promptly notify the Disclosing Party so that it may take any steps it deems appropriate for the timely preservation of the confidentiality of its Confidential Information.
- 6) Access to Confidential Information. The Receiving Party agrees that it and its subsidiaries and directors:
- a) shall not disclose, transfer or cause or permit the disclosure or transfer of the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party to, or for use by, any other person or company, excepting any affiliated company or parent company which needs to know the Confidential Information for a Permitted Purpose, without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party; and,
  - b) may disclose Confidential Information to those of its own officers, employees, subcontractors, agents and professional advisors who need to know it for the Permitted Purpose, provided, however, that the Receiving Party represents and warrants that all of such parties to whom Confidential Information is communicated are subject to strict rules of confidentiality regarding any information of which they have knowledge in the course of their employment or engagement.
- 7) Ownership of Confidential Information. Confidential Information, or anything contained in this Agreement, remains the property of the Disclosing Party and the Receiving Party obtains no right of any kind to any Confidential Information being disclosed including, without limitation, any intellectual property and ownership rights in or to the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party, or license in or to the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party or any rights under any patent or trade secret of the Disclosing Party. Other than as required for the performance of the Permitted Purpose, the Receiving Party shall not make copies of the Confidential Information without the prior consent of the Disclosing Party. The Receiving Party shall not retain copies of the Confidential Information.
- 8) Termination. Upon any rejection of the Bid and/or termination of the discussions with respect to the Bid and at any time upon request of the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall, at the Disclosing Party's option, either:
- a) promptly destroy all copies of the written Confidential Information and Confidential Information in any other tangible form, as well as copies, notes, summaries and other documents or records of the receiving Party which in any way relate to or incorporate Confidential Information in its and its representatives possession and certify such destruction to the Disclosing Party in writing; or

- b) promptly deliver to the Disclosing Party all copies of the written Confidential Information and Confidential Information in any other tangible form, as well as copies, notes, summaries and other documents or records of the Receiving Party which in any way relate to or incorporate Confidential Information in its and its representatives possession. All oral Confidential Information will continue to be subject to the terms of this Agreement.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, it is understood that the Receiving Party may retain a copy of such Confidential Information for its internal records only and while such copy is retained, the confidentiality obligations of the Receiving Party pursuant to this Agreement shall continue.

- 9) Indemnity. Receiving Party shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Disclosing Party from and against any and all loss or damage, including without limitation, legal costs, which may arise directly or indirectly from a breach of this Agreement by Receiving Party including without limitation the unauthorized disclosure or use of Confidential Information by Receiving Party. Disclosing Party shall be entitled to direct the defense.
- 10) Remedies for Breach. Receiving Party acknowledges and agrees that
  - a) the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information is proprietary and confidential and that it may be irreparably harmed if any provision of this Agreement were not performed by the Receiving Party or any party to whom the Receiving Party provides such Confidential Information in accordance with its terms, and that any such harm could not be compensated reasonably or adequately in damages.
  - b) the Disclosing Party will be entitled to injunctive relief and other equitable relief to prevent or restrain breaches of any provisions of this Agreement by the Receiving Party or any of its representatives, or to enforce the terms and provisions of this Agreement, by an action instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction, which remedy are in addition to any other remedy to which the Disclosing Party may be entitled at law or in equity.
- 11) Waiver. No failure to exercise and no delay in exercising, any right or remedy under this Agreement by the Disclosing Party will be deemed to be a waiver of that right or remedy. No waiver of any breach of any provision of this Agreement by the Disclosing Party will be deemed to be a waiver of any subsequent breach of that provision or of any similar provision. A waiver shall be effective only if made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Disclosing Party.
- 12) Effect of Agreement. The obligations of the Receiving Party under this Agreement shall:
  - a) be in effect during the currency of this Agreement and shall continue in effect for a period of five (5) years from the Effective Date or earlier termination of this Agreement after which time such obligations and undertakings shall terminate and be of no further force and effect, unless the Parties have entered into an agreement in writing providing otherwise;
  - b) automatically terminate five (5) years from the Effective Date, unless the Parties have entered into an agreement in writing providing otherwise;
  - c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Receiving Party's duty to maintain the confidentiality obligations herein shall remain in effect for ten (10) years from the Effective Date.
- 13) Business Relationship. Nothing in this Agreement shall obligate the Disclosing Party to enter into any business arrangements or agreements with the Receiving Party and nothing in this Agreement shall imply or create any exclusive relationship between the Parties and the Parties are free to pursue discussions and potential business relationships with other parties.

- 14) Enurement and Assignment: This Agreement shall enure to the benefit of the Disclosing Party, and their respective affiliates, successors and assigns. The Receiving Party may not assign this agreement without prior written consent of the Disclosing Party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. If required, the Owner may require the Receiving Party to enter into a confidentiality agreement directly with it.
- 15) Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and cancels and supersedes any prior understanding and agreements between the Parties with respect thereto. There are no representations, warranties, terms & conditions, undertakings or collateral agreements, express or implied, between the Parties other than as expressly set for in this Agreement.
- 16) Notices. A Party shall give any notice under this Agreement in writing, by fax and confirmed by registered mail or commercial courier, to the other Party at its contact information given on the first page of this Agreement. Such notice shall be provided to the following parties:
